Winemaker Notes

'Les Meysonniers' shows red fruits, blackcurrant, and raspberry that is ample and round on the palate with stewed fruits and vanilla to finish.

Vineyard

South facing slopes. The soil consists of a mixture of clay, pebbles and gravel. The alluvial terroir of Crozes-Hermitage was formed by terraces from the Rhône and Isère rivers.

Winemaking

Our Crozes-Hermitage is vinified traditionally with punching down and pumping over taking place in concrete tanks. This wine is made from organically grown grapes. The exclusion of all chemical products (in particular herbicides), and the ploughing of the vineyards, enables the vine to plunge its root system deep down into the heart of the soil.

Deeper root systems make the vine's physiological behavior more even and provide better resistance to sudden changes in temperature.

Food match

Pairs beautifully with pizza, pasta, casseroles and hearty stews.
